

BUSINESS BETTER SAY OBSERVERS

COLD WEATHER FURNISHES A STIMULUS TO TRADE.

Ordering Winter Goods—Bradstreet's Sees an Encouraging Feature in the Heavy Weekly Totals of Bank Clearings—Other Favorable Features Pointed Out.

New York, Nov. 13.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: "Colder and more stormy weather, so long needed to accelerate the distribution of winter goods, has materially helped in some quarters, and the resulting improvement in retail trade is mentioned in nearly every northern dispatch this week, so that orders to fill stocks have been encouraging, and in some branches the multitude of demands for immediate delivery show that the distribution to consumers has already gone much beyond the expectations of dealers.

"Failures of the week have been 291 in the United States, against 276 last year, and twenty-four in Canada, against forty-six last year."

Bradstreet's says:

"One of the most significant features of the business situation is found in the continued heavy weekly totals of bank clearings. Other favorable features are the continued firmness of activity in wool, iron and steel. The unfavorable influences in price movements this week are declines in cottons and print cloths, the latter touching the lowest price on record. Wheat, lard and lead are also lower and wire nails have been shaded. Colder weather in the central west and northwest has stimulated demand for winter goods.

"Exports of wheat (four included as wheat) from both coasts of the United States and from Montreal this week amount to 5,445,542 bushels, compared with 5,590,000 bushels last week. Exports of Indian corn this week amount to 2,651,546 bushels, against 2,199,000 bushels last week."

MAY DELAY NOVAK TRIAL.

Court Adjourned at Vinton, Iowa, Because of a Juror's Illness.

Vinton, Iowa, Nov. 13.—The Novak trial was adjourned Thursday on account of the illness of Juror Saunders. It is hoped he will soon be in condition to resume the sitting. The state has about completed its evidence.

Among the witnesses examined Friday were Hugh Humphrey, who identified the signature of "Frank Alfred" on railway tickets as the handwriting of the defendant; Alice Murray, a sister of the victim, who identified the body as that of her brother by a scapular cord she had given him, and William Murray, father of the dead man, who identified the skull of the fire victim by the teeth.

Toledo, O., Nov. 13.—Brewer Seamless Tube company of Toledo, Shelby Tube company of Shelby, O.; American Weldless Tube company of Toledo, Ellwood Tube company of Ellwood, Pa., and the Greenville Tube company of Greenville, Pa., representing 90 percent of the output of tubing in this country, have been consolidated. The capital stock is $5,000,000. W. H. Miller, at the head of the Shelby Tube company, will be president and general manager of the new company and the offices and headquarters will be located at Shelby, O.

Durrant May See A New Year.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 13.—In view of the fact that the Supreme court, which is now in session at Sacramento, will adjourn Tuesday until the second Monday in January, it is not considered probable that W. H. T. Durrant, the condemned murderer of Blanche Lamont and Minnie Williams, will be hanged this year. It is possible that the attorney-general may apply to the Supreme court to advance the case and hear it as a special order, but this action is so unusual that few attorneys entertain the suggestion as likely to be accomplished.

Governor Mount's Narrow Escape.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 13.—A Tenth street electric car filled with passengers, among whom was Gov. Mount, Friday evening was struck by a Big Four engine, running thirty miles an hour, at the Massachusetts avenue crossing. The electric car had barely cleared the rails, and in the collision portions of the rear platform were carried away. Several ladies were prostrated through fright.

Kaiser Threatens the Pope.

London, Nov. 13.—The Rome correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says: "Baron von Bulow (the newly appointed Prussian minister at the Vatican) in an interview with the Pope has warmly complained against the sympathy of the Vatican with the Franco-Russian alliance and its hostility to the triple alliance. He declared, in the name of Emperor William, that if the Vatican persisted in such a policy the German government will retaliate on the Roman Catholics."

Seven Persons Perished.

Berlin, Nov. 13.—Seven persons perished yesterday in a fire which broke out among the woodwork of the shaft of a mine near Antonienhutte, Silesia.

WILL INCREASE TRADE.

United States and Canada Likely to Have Reciprocity.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Definite arrangements have been made for taking up the subject of a reciprocity treaty between the United States and Canada, and to this end meetings have been fixed between John W. Kasson, who is specially delegated by President McKinley to conduct reciprocity negotiations, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Canadian premier, and Sir Louis Davies, minister of marine. This is the result of the long and friendly conference held Thursday between Secretary Sherman and Sir Wilfrid.

The meeting will be held during the present visit of the Canadian officials, but no exact time for it has yet been fixed, as it will depend somewhat on the time which can be spared from the Bering Sea sessions.

The arrangement also contemplates taking up the questions of border immigration, North Atlantic fisheries, lake fisheries, and all other subjects affecting the two countries.

The meeting with Mr. Kasson, however, will be confined to reciprocity, as he is delegated by the president to treat on that subject alone.

Succeeds Dr. Kathrein.

Vienna, Nov. 13.—Dr. Abrahamovics, first vice president of the lower house of the reichsrath, has been elected president of that body in succession to Dr. Kathrein's resignation Oct. 26. It was understood that Dr. Kathrein's resignation was due to the fact that he was opposed to taking extreme measures against the obstruction being carried on by the aggressive section of the German representatives. Dr. Abrahamovics has acted as president ever since the resignation of Dr. Kathrein, but he does not appear to have been able to quell the uproars which have repeatedly occurred in the house, although in his efforts to do so he has repeatedly suspended the sittings.

Intensifies the Slight.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 13.—An imperial ukase, just issued, announces that, it being considered expedient to appoint a permanent charge d'affaires at Carlsruhe, capital of the Grand Duchy of Baden, Prince Cantacuzene, who has hitherto represented Russia at Stuttgart, capital of the Kingdom of Wurtemberg, and at Carlsruhe, has been relieved of his post at the court of Baden. It is presumable that this change is in some manner connected with the alleged slight put upon the Grand Duke and the Grand Duchess of Baden during the stay of the czar and cararina at Darmstadt, capital of the Grand Duchy of Hesse.

Charged With Murder of Husband.

Eureka, Kan., Nov. 13.—George Debbis and Mrs. Joseph New are under arrest here charged with having murdered Mrs. New's husband. The crime was committed the night of Oct. 31 at the home of the murdered man in Otter Creek township. Suspicion was directed against Debbis, who is a widower with two children, soon after the murder, and when he finally went to live at Mrs. New's house the feeling against him became intense.

IS SATISFIED WITH BLANCO'S COURSE

MINISTER WOODFORD COM- MENDS HIS COURSE.

Protest Against Autonomy—Union Constitutional Party in Cuba Cables to the Queen Regent—Pope Leo Expresses Sympathy with the Throne.

Madrid, Nov. 13.—United States Minister Woodford had a cordial interview Friday with Senor Moret, minister of the colonies, and it is believed that he assured Senor Moret that the United States government is satisfied with the measures taken thus far by Marshal Blanco.

The government has received for the queen regent the cable request of the union constitutional party in Cuba that her majesty decline to sign the decrees establishing autonomy in the island, but the request will be ignored and the action of the party is regarded as unimportant if the government decides to carry out its program loyally and sincerely.

The ministerial organs express satisfaction at the message of the pope to the Spanish bishops, voicing his sympathy with King Alfonso and the queen regent. In view of Carlist effervescence this action of the pope is regarded as an opportune demonstration.

The press generally approves the decree pardoning exiles from Cuba and Porto Rico. All foreigners will be handed over to the care of the consuls of their respective governments.

Will Not Accept Autonomy.

London, Nov. 13.—A dispatch to the Daily Chronicle from Havana summarizes statements by General Maximo Gomez, Aranguren, Arango and the late Adolfo Castillo, all opposing the acceptance of anything short of independence and declaring that autonomy would not be worth the paper it was written on. The same correspondent confirms the report that General Castillo was betrayed by a false friend to the Spaniards, who sent a portion of the civil guard to lie in wait for him and shoot him as he was leaving the supposed friend's house.

MICHAEL STILL KING.

"Welsh Rarebit" Easily Defeats Eddie McDuflie.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Jimmy Michael defeated Eddie McDuflie last night at the Coliseum. The result of the race proper was not wholly satisfactory, since the marvelous "Welsh rarebit" had a practical walkover for more than two-thirds of the fifteen miles.

McDuflie met with an accident on the sixth lap of the fifth mile, striking the rear wheel of his pacemakers' machine, which threw him out of the race. This mishap, however, was more than atoned for by Michael's marvelous performance, which, the midge going right along, and cheered on by fifteen thousand excited people, he clipped 1:41 3-5 off the indoor record of 32:49, negotiating the distance in 31:07 2-5.

Synodical Control Favored.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 13.—The special committee on the home missions of the Presbyterian Church, which completed its labors Friday afternoon, authorized the Rev. J. L. Withrow to appoint the subcommittee that is to prepare a report to be submitted to the full committee at a meeting to be held in February. The sentiment of the general committee is in favor of the so-called Indiana plan of missionary work, and the subcommittee will recommend the adoption of that plan in its report. The system is now followed in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. The home board in New York was commended for the work it has been doing since the adjournment of the general assembly last May.

ILLINOIS MINERS VOTE TO STRIKE

COAL WORKERS IN A FEVER OF DISCONTENT.

Arbitration Is Proposed—Seven Hundred Men at Braceville Declare They Will Not Work Again Until President Ratchford Tells Them the Strike Is Over.

Braceville, Ill., Nov. 13.—The miners of this place, 700 strong, by a unanimous rising vote decided Friday night to go on a strike again. They went into the mines this morning to clean up, after which they refuse to work until the officers of the United Mineworkers' union tell them the strike is over. Arbitration is now the method sought to bring the long struggle to an end.

The miners have offered to name a maximum price and let the operators name another and then to arbitrate the difference, or they offer to name no price at all and arbitrate the entire question. President Ratchford addressed the meeting and the miners were aroused to the highest pitch of enthusiasm. Mr. Ratchford said that the stories that the miners were mobilizing and getting ready to march against those who were working were untrue, and that they had been started for the purpose of injuring the cause of the strikers.

Secretary Ryan will communicate with the operators of the northern Illinois district. If they refuse to arbitrate the miners will simply wait until they get ready to meet them. Matters are now where they were a week ago, but the officers of the union believe they will be able to settle by arbitration.

MAY STRIKE AT BRAIDWOOD.

Entire Northern Illinois District May Be Tied Up.

Braidwood, Ill., Nov. 13.—The indications are that the entire northern Illinois mining district will be tied up again within the next twenty-four hours, either by the voluntary coming out of the miners or their being prevented from going to the mines.

M. D. Ratchford, national president of the United Mineworkers of America; State President Hunter, State Secretary Ryan and a number of other well-known men high in the councils of the miners arrived in Braceville Friday morning and addressed a small meeting of the miners. This was the first mine to resume operations at the 77½-cent rate and was the first to vote to again suspend operations until the national officers had had time to try the effects of arbitration on the operators, the Springfield rate of 88½ cents being the miners' shibboleth. Mr. Ratchford addressed the meeting at some length. He told the men that the Streator convention had decided to stand by the Springfield scale and to offer to arbitrate the question with the operators, and he gave it as his belief that if the men would again come out and stand by their officers they would be successful in a short time.

At the meeting in Coal City, at which miners were present from the Braidwood, Carbon Hill and Diamond mines, the vote to go out again and to remain out until the officers had endeavored to settle the dispute by arbitration was unanimous.

Secretary Ryan read a letter from the district chairman at Springfield, which contained the information that a committee of miners had had a conference with Gov. Tanner on the Chinese proposition, and that the governor had not only said that he would not permit the importation of Chinamen, but that there should be no Gatling guns to coerce the men back into the mines. The governor said that if he found that the operators were building stockades about the mines he would see that they were torn down. The governor referred to the Chicago ex-policemen, who, it was said, were to be sent here to protect non-union men, and said that he would promptly send them back to their homes.

The scale question has assumed an entirely new phase since the adjournment of the Streator convention. Before all the talk had been about the Springfield scale of 81½ cents a ton. It is still the Springfield scale, but the men are now insisting on the enforcement of the state law, which provides for mining by gross weight. With the scale at 81½ cents for mining over a seven-eighths inch screen the rate for mine run would be 65 cents, and this is the question which the officers desire to submit for arbitration. The Chicago, Wilmington and Vermilion Company, which is the oldest on the prairie, equipped its mine some time ago to work on this plan.

To all outward appearance the importation of Chinamen has ceased to be a bugaboo with the miners, and there is scarcely one to be found now who believes that the companies will ever make such an attempt. They rest their cause on public opinion, and say the operators will not dare to do that which they know would precipitate riot and bloodshed.

Spain Can Not Borrow Money.

London, Nov. 13.—A Madrid dispatch to the Daily Mail says: "Besides the Rothschilds, other prominent financiers of London and Paris have entirely cut off the monetary supplies which Spain has hitherto succeeded in obtaining."

SOVEREIGN IS OUT.

Grand Master of the Knights of Labor Steps Down for Private Duties.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 13.—At the meeting of the general assembly Knights of Labor Friday Grand Master Sovereign declined a re-election and Henry A. Hicks of New York was unanimously chosen to succeed him.

Mr. Sovereign gave as a reason for his action that he had to devote so much time to political and editorial work that he could no longer attend to the master workman duties. He delivered a long farewell address. He urged laboring men to organize at elections and vote for candidates who would frame what he termed proper labor laws. After reviewing the labor troubles of the year he closed with the announcement of his determination to retire from active work as head of the order. The other officers elected were: Grand worthy foreman, I. D. Chamberlain, Colorado; general executive board, Harry Bostock; Indiana; Sarsfield Fitzpatrick, Colorado.

Mr. Hicks, the new general master workman, was seen after the meeting. He said he did not intend to outline the future policy of the order under his administration for several days. He expressed the highest admiration for his predecessor, saying that he thought him one of the greatest exponents of the age of the prime idea represented by the Knights of Labor.

I. D. Chamberlain, the new worthy foreman, is a newspaper man.

Will Close Its Mills.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 13.—The directors of the American Strawboard Manufacturers' Association decided to shut down all its mills in the association for one week, beginning Monday, in order to reduce the stock on hand. The directors said the market was glutted and the shut-down was adopted on that account. Another shut-down later on may be ordered if the glut continues. It is hoped to relieve this, however, by extending the market, and to this end an expert committee was appointed that will open headquarters in London.

Wrecked by Floods in Spain.

Madrid, Nov. 13.—Further details regarding the floods in various parts of Spain, notably in the provinces of Saragossa, Valencia and Malaga, where railroad traffic and telegraphic communication have been seriously interfered with, show that fifteen corpses have already been recovered. In the neighborhood of Valencia enormous numbers of cattle have perished, and the villages of Grao and Nazareth have been completely inundated. Many of the houses of those places have collapsed.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Preliminary reports to the statistician of the department of agriculture indicate an average yield of 181.9 pounds of cotton per acre. While the figures now published are subject to revision in the final report, they are believed to approximately represent the actual condition of the crop.

Uncle Sam Not to Intervene.

Washington, Nov. 13.—It is not possible to confirm here the statement coming from Berlin to the effect that the United States has offered to mediate between Germany and Hayti in the differences arising from the arrest of the German subject Lueders. It is gathered, however, that while no such proffer was made overtures have been made to this government to intervene, but without success.

No Fever in Illinois.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 13.—Dr. L. Adelsberger, president of the state board of health, wired Dr. Egan that he and Dr. Frinstead had made an investigation of the suspected cases reported at Thebes, Ill., and found them not to be yellow fever, but hemorrhagic malarial fever. None of the cases came from the river nor from infected points, and the patients are not transients.

THORN WANTS TRIAL TO BE HASTENED

HIS ATTORNEY ASKS FOR AN- OTHER JUROR.

The Fact That One Man On the Panel Must Be Operated Upon For Appendicitis Makes It Necessary to Fill His Place—Discussion As to the Law.

New York, Nov. 13.—When the Queens county court of Oyer and Terminer opened at Long Island city Friday, it was represented to Judge Smith that Magnus Larsen, one of the jurors sitting in the case of Martin Thorn, accused of the murder of William Guldensuppe, had been obliged to submit to a surgical operation for appendicitis and that under the most favorable conditions he would not be able to resume his seat in the jury box in less than three weeks. It therefore became a question as to how the case should proceed.

Mr. Howe, counsel for Thorn, suggested the retention of the rest of the jurors and impaneling a twelfth juror, to whom the proceedings be read from the court reporter's notes. District Attorney Youngs asked for time in which to look up the authorities before deciding to accept or reject the proposition of counsel for the defense, and Judge Smith adjourned further consideration of the case.

Fire in Kankakee Hotel.

Kankakee, Ill., Nov. 13.—The River-view hotel burned here Friday. The loss is $85,000, insurance $20,000. The hotel was a wooden structure, with interior fittings of Georgia pine. The city department responded to the alarm, but owing to the great height of the building and the distance of the nearest fire hydrants was able to accomplish little. The flames spread with such rapidity the forty guests were unable to save their clothing and valuables and some of them barely escaped with their lives.

Pardon for Competitor Crew.

Havana, Nov. 13.—Dispatches received here from Madrid confirm the previous reports to the effect that the prisoners captured on board the American schooner Competitor, in April, 1896, will be included in the general amnesty decree soon to be issued. The second trial by court-martial of the Competitor's crew was to have begun last Monday, but was postponed on account of the sickness of the president of the court.

Chelsea, I. T., Nov. 13.—It is reported by the Indian agent of the Five Tribes that the Creek Indians, who stubbornly refused to allow the Dawes commission to enroll their names on the new citizenship rolls, are now flocking to the towns to meet the commission. Weyler Is Defiant.

Says Sagasta Cannot Last.

Paris, Nov. 13.—Writing in Intransigent Henri Rochefort predicts the return of General Weyler will hasten the overthrow of the Sagasta government, and the crisis will probably end in favor of the Republicans, who will get the upper hand of the Carlists. All, he declares, is ready.

Butterworth Gains Strength.

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 13.—The condition of Patent Commissioner Butterworth continues to improve. Although he will not be out of danger for several days yet, his physicians believe he will recover.

It Was.

"Come ahead, don't be scared," said the man who was managing the putting of a safe into the second-story; "it's safe enough."

"Yes," murmured the pedestrian, as the rope broke and the box landed upon his neck, "it's more than that. It's a safe too much!"—Cincinnati Tribune.

ROCK SENDS 22 SUGAR BEETS

Farmers Urged to Send Specimens to the Experiment Station.

The state experiment station has already analyzed over 1,000 samples of sugar beets grown from seed distributed through members of the legislature last spring.

Rock county has furnished twenty-two of these samples. Farmers are urged to send in as many samples of beets as possible in order to make a showing for the county.

All railroad companies (not express companies) have kindly agreed to carry packages containing three beets each, free of charge. The experiment station will furnish shipping tags and blanks to be filled out by growers, upon request.

All beets for analysis must reach the station before December 1st, and none will be analyzed after that date.

CLOTH GOWN WITH SATIN BRAIDING FROM HARPER'S BAZAR

Braiding of satin put on cloth is very greatly in favor this winter, and the more elaborate the pattern the better. A gown of dark blue smooth-faced cloth, illustrated above, made with this style of trimming, is noticeably smart, and the lines of the satin are very cleverly designed. The prevailing air of the costume is of quiet grace. It has the new skirt, which is slender and clinging, without the flaring stiffness of last winter's skirts. The front of the waist blouses, a detail which is becoming to almost every type of figure. Directions for cutting the gown are given with the tissue paper cut pattern issued by Harper's Bazar, from which this model is taken. The skirt has bands of the satin going down the front and all around the foot, and the same pattern is carried out on the waist, the sleeves, and the square epanettes over the top of the sleeves. An unusually deep rounded yoke is of tucked taffeta silk of shaded green. A high collar with inside frill of green is of the cloth like the skirt. On the waist and on the sides of the skirt below the belt are turquoise and rhinestone buttons.

SHORT SPRING BROOK NOTES

That Part of the City Is Not Very Active at Present.

A girl has arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Viney.

Spring Brook residents are praying that the street cars will keep running throughout the winter.

Musk rats have been busy in the river adjoining the Jackson street bridge. They are building large and strong houses, giving every sign of cold weather.

Street Commissioner Palmer has ordered the building of several new sidewalks along McKee boulevard.

Spring Brook residents are wondering what is to become of that part of the town. The Hall factory is closed and the Dry Extract factory is to move to Elgin.

Three former employees of the old Burr Robbins circus were in the city this week, from Chicago, and stopped over just long enough to visit the old circus grounds. They made a thorough inspection of the old animal house in which one of the men was employed for several winters as keeper.

FARMERS ROBBED AT NIGHT

Several Pieces of Thieving Committed Near the County Asylum

Now that the Burns brothers have been arrested and lodged in jail charged with stealing oats from the Grundy farm, several farmers residing near the county farm recall to mind the loss of several articles from their farms. Who stole them or what ever became of them has always remained a mystery. One farmer says that he missed over twenty bushel of potatoes while another tiller of the soil says that thirty bushels of corn disappeared from his place one dark night.

MAY NOT WARM STREET CARS

Present Patronage Does Not Warrant New Heating Apparatus.

It will cost $180 to put electrical heating apparatus in the three new street cars. The company does not favor this outlay unless they see some way out of it. Motormen say that since the cold weather of the past week people have been walking, preferring it to riding in cold cars. The daily receipts fall far short of paying expenses.

New Story by Gilbert Parker.

Gilbert Parker's new story is to be called "The Battle of the Strong." It is to appear as a serial in the Atlantic Monthly, the first installment in the number of January, 1898. It will be remembered that the Atlantic printed Mr. Parker's successful "Seats of the Mighty."

With Mr. F. Hopkinson Smith's serial Caleb West, now running, and Mrs. Wiggin's Penceloe's Progress, the Atlantic is now, and promises to be, particularly rich in good fiction.

Juda's post office has been robbed again. This time the local police have not been asked to look out for the robber, for the thief was caught in the act and landed in the Green county jail. J. D. Hall, father of the postmaster, and George Thayer, who occupy rooms in the building across the street from the post office, were awakened by the breaking of glass. Constable Reinich and others were notified and it was found that one of the front windows in the post office had been broken. The thief was in the building, but he heard the noise, and made an attempt to escape. The prisoner is a hard looking German forty-one years of age. He gives his name as Frank Hedcael and claims Milwaukee as his home.

Winter apples of the fine quality are arriving in town in carload lots. These are Greening, Baldwin and Northern Spy. All the varieties are good winter keepers, and are in fine condition. The dealers all over the city will soon commence putting in their winter stock for sale. It is coming time for those who put in apples for private use, to buy. They now sell for $3.50 a barrel and thirty cents a peck.

FARMERS DON'T FEAR CARS

Motorman Lee Says That Drivers Are Getting Careless These Days.

Motorman Edwin Lee, who struck John Janich's outfit yesterday says that it was Janich's fault that the accident happened.

"I was coming up Milwaukee street at the usual rate of speed and was ringing my bell when Janich turned his horse directly in front of the car," said Motorman Lee. "The farmers are altogether too careless with their teams when driving about the cars."

WITH THE YARDMASTER

ONE of these pleasant looking, persistent organ agents dropped in to see Hiram Jefferson of this city, about two years ago, with a view of doing business with him on the installment plan.

"You see, Mr. Jefferson," said the agent with a confidential air, and a reassuring smile, "we will sell you an organ for a song, so to speak. You only have to pay $2 down on a $43 organ, then we will give you a long time to pay the balance. There is nothing so nice as an organ these long winter nights. You can sit down and play till the air is cream full of music. The fact is you can enjoy yourself half to death, for a small amount of money. A few bars of sweet melody from that instrument that would make you forget that you ever had any trouble. It will bring back sweet memories of those days when the old folks used to sing at night by the fire side in your old southern home, and besides—"

"Lock heah, Mars Agent, I do reckon you've done good said er'uff. Jes' fitch in dah organ, en I'll 'bide by yo' greement."

The instrument was placed in Jeff's best room. The first evening the neighbors thought Euterpe had come to life again and was doing an up-to-date musical turn, under the auspices of a hurricane. Jeff's allegretto touch made the organ give up strains of long lasting joy.

Jeff paid $27 on the organ, but after that the payments lapsed. The result was that the music house sent around a constable. When the constable told Jeff that he would have to give up the organ, he did not particularly object to that, but he wanted the $27 returned.

"Now, you jes take dat organ," said Jeff, "and be sho' en git dot money back."

"Well, but you see, Jeff," said the constable, "this is a case where if you do not pay the balance due at a stipulated time the company has a right to take the organ back and you lose what money you have paid, as you did not make your last payment as per agreement."

"Oh yes sah, yes sah, I reckon you've got dat pint o'law jes' right, but what I wants is my $27."

"Well, Jeff you do not quite understand me. You see you fail to keep your contract, and the result is you will have to lose your money as the organ is now second-hand and the organ company will never be able to realize one-half the value of it. Now do you see the idea?"

"Oh, yes sah, I see jes ez plain ez er'possum up er tree. Dat's all right all dem pints, but you see what I am mos' warrin' 'bout is my money Dem $27. Don't you see dems my pints. You don't want me ter go clean down to Chicago to 'splain 'dese here matters does y'?"

"No, you would be out still more money then, the expense of the trip, don't you see. All you can do, is to submit to the inevitable."

"Boss, I d n' jact'y know what da' am, but I reckon tite some pints to law date got me falded. En 'caze I don' understand dem pints am de reason I se 'bout to lose my $27, I tell you Mars Constable, come er' round har tomorrow, den I reckon I'll hab dese har pints solved all out, so I can git my money back."

After four days expialization, Jeff is still wondering how he got knocked out of the $27 installment.

IS IT CURABLE?

A Question Often Asked by Those Afflicted with Piles.

Is a strained joint curable? Is local inflammation curable? Of course, if properly treated. So is piles.

People often become afflicted with piles and ask some old "chronic" who has always persisted in the wrong treatment and naturally he discourages them by telling them that their case is hopeless.

They in turn discourage others, and thus a disease that can in every case be cured by careful and skillful handling is allowed to sap the energy of thousands who might free themselves of the trouble in a few days.

Pyramid Pile Cure will cure the most aggravated case of hemorrhoids in an astonishingly short time. It relieves the congested parts, reduces the tumors instantly no matter how large, allays the inflammation and stops the itching or bleeding at once. Thousands who had resorted to expensive surgical treatment have been cured by the Pyramid Pile Cure in a number of instances persons who had spent months in a hospital under a pile specialist.

It is a remedy that none need fear to apply even to the most aggravated, swollen and inflamed hemorrhoidal tumors.

If you are afflicted with this stubborn disease you can master it and master it quickly. This remedy is no longer an experiment, but a medical certainty. It is manufactured by the Pyramid Drug Co. of Albion, Mich. Dugrists sell it at 50 cents and $1.00 per box. It is becoming the most popular pile cure this country has ever known and druggists everywhere are ordering it for their customers.

WILL DEDICATE NEW CHURCH

Janesville People Will Attend Christian Science Services in Chicago

Mrs. A. P. Lovejoy, Mrs. L. H. Becker and Miss E. Louise Williams left on the morning train for Chicago, where they will be present at the dedication of the first Christian Scientist church erected in Illinois. Services of an impressive nature will be held tomorrow afternoon. The edifice is located at 4013 Drexel boulevard, and cost $108,000. Four identical sermons will be delivered at different times during the day, so as to give the large throng that is expected an opportunity to listen to the ceremonies. E. A. Kimball, who is the reader of the new church, will deliver the address of the day, and read a paper, written by Mrs. N. Eddy, founder of the Christian science faith. It is expected that over 2,000 Christian Scientists from other cities will attend the dedication. The new church, called the First Church of Christ, Scientist, is built of white stone and is of Greek architecture. The interior is constructed on the same plan as is the lower floor of the Auditorium. The large dome is of French-tinted glass. The church has no gallery and there are no roof-supporting pillars. The decorations are in white and gold, and it has a seating capacity of 1,700. It was not until a little over a year ago that the people decided upon the location and cost. There are thousands of Christian Scientists in Chicago and the meetings for the last three years have been held in the Auditorium.

There are many in Janesville who are firm believers in the Christian Science teachings meetings have been regularly held here for several years.

WADED THE ROCK IN 1839

Question of Navigation is Raised By Two Settlers.

Whether or not Rock river is a navigable stream is still a mooted question at Sterling, Ill. J. S. Scott an old settler of Sterling says that he and his brother, John Scott, now of Como, are living witnesses of that they waded across the river at Eagle Island above Como and at the rapids above Sterling in the year 1839 and at neither place did they get in water to their knees. They had come up the river and in that way tested the depth of the water at the two shallow points named. Mr. Scott further adds that his brother at Como has forded the river with a team at Como one or more times each year since 1839 until the present time. These two men are both on the ground now and say that they are willing to be interviewed on this subject of steamboat navigation at any time.

A little child of J. R. Hays, living near Colquitt, Ga., overturned a pot of boiling water, scalding itself so severely that the skin came off its breast and limbs. The distressed parents sent to Mr. Bush, a merchant of Colquitt for a remedy, and he promptly forwarded Chamberlain's Pain Balm. The child was suffering intensely but was relieved by a single application of the Pain Balm. Another application or two made it sound and well. For sale by C. D. Stevens, corner Main and Milwaukee streets.

May Not Reach the Whalers.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 13.—Captain Tuttle of the United States revenue cutter Bear expects to receive orders to proceed to the Arctic ocean and endeavor to relieve the ice-imprisoned whaling fleet. Captain Tuttle said today: "I do not see what avail my going will be, as there is hardly a remote chance of the planned expedition reaching the whalers until next August. As I have said, I think the whalers will be able to pinch through on short rations. I shall take a year's provisions for the Bear, as we might ourselves be caught in the ice. In fact, I look for that very thing to happen." Captain Tuttle does not think that the proposition to sled relief parties in by reindeer and dogs will be practicable.

Three Nations Vs. One.

Valparaiso, Chile, Nov. 13.—Plans of a dreibund, which, if adopted, means wiping Bolivia off the South American map, are in contemplation by Chile, Peru and Argentina. Both Peru and Chile are now squabbling with Bolivia, the bone of contention being two provinces of Taena and Africa, promised Bolivia in return for her recognition of the Chilean revolutionists as belligerents in 1891. Chile, however, has not given them up yet. Argentina is to be invited into the alliance to give it strength; a war with Bolivia would follow, and the victors would divide her territory.

DIED AT THE AGE OF 92

Mrs. Mary Clementson, One of the Old Residents of the County.

If Mrs. Mary Clementson who was buried in the Orfordville cemetery had lived seven years and seven months longer she would have been a hundred years old.

Mrs. Clementson was a native of Norway. She came to this country thirty years ago with her children, the husband and father having died the year previous.

She enjoyed very good health for one of her years. She suffered from no disease but gradually the lamp of life was dimmed.

Her oldest daughter, Mrs. H. Mickelson, with her husband, had preceded her to this country, settling near Orfordville, and with them Mrs. Clementson made her home. During all these years she has lived principally with Mrs. Mickelson and with her son, Mr. G. Clementson. Her five children are all living: Mrs. H. Mickelson and Mrs. G. Gilbertson, of Orfordville; Mrs. L. C. Hanson, of Randal, Minn.; Mrs. H. Paulson, of Otter Tail Co., Minn.; Mr. G. Clementson, of Orfordville.

STAR SHOWERS FOR TONIGHT

Strange Sights May Be Expected in the Heavens These Nights.

If the heavens are clear this evening star showers may be expected. Showers are also looked for tomorrow and Monday evening. This is the intelligence that comes from the Washington observatory at Madison.

On Nov. 13 and 14, 1896, symptoms of these impending showers were detected by many astronomers, who were watching for them and it is altogether probable that precursors of the great shower of 1899 will be even more conspicuous than a year ago.

It is well known that these star showers are caused by collisions between the earth and a great swarm of meteoric stones which moves around the sun in an orbit crossing the orbit of the earth at the place reached by the earth about the middle of November.

ELASTIC STARCH has been before the people of the United States for twenty-three years and is without doubt the greatest starch invention of the Nineteenth Century. Last year it reached the unprecedented number of twenty million packages. It is prepared upon scientific principles by men who have had years of practical experience. In any laundry it makes ironing easy, restores old summer dresses to their natural whiteness, and imparts to linen a beautiful and lasting finish. It is the only starch manufactured that is perfectly harmless, containing neither arsenic, alum, or any other substance injurious to linen, and can be used even as a baby power.

A NEW JAIL.

How much will Rock county make by refusing to build a new jail? Nobody wants to see needless expense incurred, but when the state board of control declares that the county must build the time for make-shifts has passed. The law gives the state board full control of such matters. An appeal to the state board of health is useless. That body has no jurisdiction.

The county is given one year to provide a new jail. If by the end of that period the work is not well under way the courts will be notified that prisoners must be sent to other counties.

The presentation of a six months' board bill may be relied upon to make the county board see things in a different light, but men of judgment should not require such an argument.

HOW IT WORKS.

Silver has declined 20 per cent. in the last year. How does this affect the people of Mexico? Very favorably for those who have debts to pay, but very unfavorably for those to whom money is due. If a man loaned another $100 in Mexico a year ago, all he will receive now in payment is $80, and there is no way by which he can collect the other $20. He will receive in payment one hundred Mexican dollars, the same number that he loaned, but they will be worth just four-fifths as much as when he loaned them. This shows the practical operation of the silver standard.

Great Britain would like a little commercial reciprocity between the United States and Canada; also her possessions in the West Indies. Well, if she will drop her usual propensity to grab everything and submit a fair and equitable proposition the matter can easily be arranged, not otherwise.

If it amuses the other fellows to imagine republican revolt against the caucus nominee for senator of the republicans of the Ohio legislature, Senator Hanna would be the last man to object to their doing so. Mr. Hanna will receive the caucus nomination for senator, and he will be elected.

As long as human nature is what it is the men who do political work for their party will expect to have some say about who shall hold the offices when their party wins and when those expectations are not realized the effect will be seen at the next election.

Senator Hansbrough of North Dakota, says that state is in the republican column to stay, and that the election of a republican to succeed Senator Roach, whose term expires March 3, 1898, is a certainty.

The attitude of the democratic press would be a sufficient reason, if there were not other and better reasons, why the republicans elected to the Ohio legislature should vote as a unit.

We violate no confidence in saying that Comptroller Eckels accepted the presidency of that Chicago National bank because it carried a large salary attachment and he needed money.

Senator Wolcott can, like the discarded lover, console himself by thinking that it is better to have tried to secure international bimetalism and have failed, than not to have tried.

The announcement that Henri Waterson intends to devote his entire time to being amusing ought to restore some of the circulation of his paper.

The more thoroughly Richard-Where-did-he-get-it Croker Tammany-izes the city government of New York the better it will be for the republican party.

BUILD A NEW JAIL OR PAY FOR BOARD

COUNTY SUPERVISORS HAVE NOT MUCH TIME LEFT.

State Board of Control Was In Earnest
In Ordering a New Jail Erected—President Heg Says the Board of Health Has Nothing to Do With It.

The Rock county board of supervisors is likely to run up against a snag. Unless the decision to erect the new jail is reversed at the January meeting summary action is likely to be taken by the state board of control.

There appears to have been a misapprehension on the part of some of the board of supervisors as to the state board's power. The Wisconsin statute places absolute control of jails, police stations and lock-ups in the hands of that body.

President Heg of the state board was in the city today and when asked as to the action likely to be taken said:

"The board is not inclined to be unreasonable and wants the county to have all the time that is really necessary. It is idle to claim, however, that the Rock county jail is satisfactory as can be made so by repairs, and there will be no compromise on these points. The drainage of the jail is unsatisfactory, the same open drain carrying off the water from the bath tub and the drainage from the water closets. A proper separation of the prisoners is impossible. The jail is so unsafe that any prisoner can break out if he wants to.

The ventilation is so bad that even when the cells are unoccupied and a free circulation of air is possible the odor in the jail is very offensive. On warm days when the jail is full it is impossible to keep it in any passable condition. The way the jail is arranged makes it very easy to get whiskey and other contraband articles to the prisoners. The way it is joined to the sheriff's residence leaves a little hallway that would burn very fast and smoke out the prisoners."

The law in regard to the supervision of jails by the state board is very plain. The provisions are as follows:

"Whenever in the opinion of the state board of charities and reform, any jail, police station and lock up, is dangerous to the health or life of prisoners, or is so constructed as not to hold prisoners securely, with ordinary vigilance on the part of the officers in charge, or is not so constructed as to provide for the proper separation of the prisoners as provided in section 4952, of the revised statutes, it shall be the duty of the state board of charities and reform, to notify the county board, city council, village board or other similar body having the necessary authority, by filing a written notice with the county, city, or village clerk, stating the facts of the case or whether in their opinion the defects can be remedied by repairs, or whether a new jail, police station or lock-up should be constructed. If within one year after such notice being filed the repairs are not satisfactorily made or a new jail, police station or lock-up constructed, as the case may be, it shall be the duty of the state board of charities and reform to condemn said jail, police station or lock-up by filing a written notice with the clerk of the circuit court for said county, in the case of a jail, or with the city or village clerk in the case of a police station or lock-up, and thereafter it shall not be lawful to confine prisoners in such jail, police station or lock-up, and it shall be the duty of the sheriff of the county or the chief of police, city or village marshal or constable, as the case may be, to immediately transfer all prisoners in said jail, police station or lock-up to some other place of confinement, and thereafter not to use said jail, police station or lock-up as a place for confining prisoners, provided that such condemnation shall not take effect until approved by the circuit judge of the judicial circuit in which such county is situated.

The law provides that the condemnation must be approved by the circuit judge. Judge Bennett was consulted by members of the board before anything was done, and expressed himself as heartily in favor of the building of a new jail.

The state board of control cannot compel the county to build a new jail.
Unless a jail is built, however, the board can compel the sheriff to transfer all his prisoners to some other place of confinement approved by the board. In that case of course the county would be obliged to pay for the week for the board of prisoners as Dane county did when the Dane county prisoners were brought to this city and lodged.

CAN'T SELL DEER MEAT

Janesville Butchers Are "Giving" Venison
With Purchases of Wrapping Paper

There is considerable question as to the sale of venison by Janesville butchers. The new game law intimates that venison shall not be retained in the state. Four deer were hung in local markets this morning in spite of the law and it was suggested that no provision of the law prevented a butcher from giving away venison and selling the wrapping paper if he saw fit.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Mardin marked their golden wedding very joyously at from Maine, and have been closely identified with the progress of the community since that time. Among those present at their golden wedding

GRIFFIN CANNOT GO BACK

His Furlough Granted by the Soldiers'
Home Authorities Has Expired.

Patsy Griffin cannot go back to the Soldiers' Home in Milwaukee. His furlough expired November 11, and the authorities of the home now declare that he must look after himself.
This causes no particular grief to Pat-sey, who prefers Janesville to Milwaukee any time; but it makes his relatives concerned as to his walk and conversation if he gets among his old friends again.

The Gates Home Burned to the Ground—
Insured for $1000.

Gus Gates' house, situated between this city and Beloit, was burned to the ground about 10 o'clock yesterday morning. A hot fire was started to heat some water, when the roof caught fire from a defective flue. The house quickly burned down. There was no entirely confined to the building. The building was valued at $1,500 with insurance amounting to $1,000.

BEYOND THE CARES OF LIFE

Henry Erredge

Henry Erredge, father of G. H. Er-redge of this city, died in Oconomowoc Thursday. He at one time resided in this city, having settled here with his family in 1859. He remained here only for a short time, leaving for Pike's Peak, Colorado, in search of a fortune.
When he returned from the west he made him home at Oconomowoc, where he has resided ever since. Mr. Erredge was prominent in Masonic circles, having been one of the oldest Masons in the state. He was also a veteran in the Mexican war and in the war of the Rebellion. The funeral, which will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, will be under the auspices of the Masonic lodge.

Fred J. Stevens.

A telegram was received this morning announcing the death of Fred J.
Stevens in New Orleans, at 10 o'clock last night. He had been ill but a short time, and his death is supposed to have resulted from heart disease. The burial will be in New Orleans, as quarantine restrictions prevent removal to this city, and make it impossible for any of the Janesville relatives to attend.

Mr. Stevens was in this city only a few weeks ago on an extended visit, and left for New Orleans to resume his duties in the New Orleans postoffice, where he had been employed for nineteen years. He was a brother of Major F. F. Stevens and Miss Mary E.
Stevens, and had many friends among Janesville people.

weiler were taken to Fort Atkinson on

She Declares That She Cannot Be

Mrs. Vernie Millard was given a divorce this morning on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment. She considered her husband cruel when he pulled her about the house by the hair and threw an occasional lamp at her head. Judge Bennett took the same view of it. Jackson & Jackson appeared in behalf of the plaintiff and there was no appearance of the defendant. Mrs. Millard was given the custody of the only child, a boy four years of age. She lives in Harmony

MATCH IN COTTON BATS

Small Fire In the Basement of J. M. Boswick & Sons' Store.

A match dropped into a case of cotton bats started a fire in the basement of J. M. Bostwick & Sons' Store yesterday afternoon. Miss Leffingwell was getting some bats for a customer.
She gave the alarm instantly and J.
L. and Harry A. Bostwick ran down and carried the blazing case out into the alley. Miss Leffingwell brought two of the blazing bats upstairs and had her hands considerably burned.
Arrangements are being made to keep the cotton bats in the second story of the new store which Bostwick & Sons have leased, so that no lights will be needed in handling them.

THE DARK MAN.

Rose o' the world, she came to my bed
And changed the dreams of my heart and head.
For joy of mine she left grief of hers
And garlanded me with a crown of furze.

Rose o' the world, they go out and in,
And watch me dream and my mother spin,
And they pity the tears on my sleeping face,
While my soul's away in a fairy place.

Rose o' the world, they have words galore,
And wide's the swing of my mother's door,
And soft they speak of my darkened eyes,
And what do they know, who are all so wise?

Rose o' the world, the pain you give
Is worth all days that a man may live;
Worth all shy prayers the colleens say
On the night that darkens the wedding day!

Rose o' the world, what man would wed
When he might dream of your face instead;
Might go to his grave with the blessed pain
Of languishing after your face again?

Rose o' the world, they may talk their fill—
For dreams are good, and my life stands still While their lives' red ashes the gossip stir—
But my fiddle knows, and I talk to her.

LOST IN HARBOR.

One golden September afternoon a brig called the Alice of London was running toward the land, bound for the little port of Fordham on the southern coast. A steady breeze coming over the water filled her sails and sent her slipping along at quite a record pace. The rich, warm sunlight turned her gray and patched canvas into gossamer, gave an airy lightness to her clumsy spars, flashed from the binnacle cover and cabin skylight, brightened up the bit of green paint on her deckhouse and sparkled in the spray that shot up from under her bow as she rose and fell with the motion of the waves till it looked like showers of diamonds. Shoreward the faint outline of the land was just discernible through a veil of purple haze. Overhead the sky was decked with clouds that were ever changing in their shape and tints, and as for the surface of the sea, the hues of it that September afternoon would have defied the brush of the finest artist that ever lived.

It was an ideal sailor's day, and the mate of the Alice seemed to think so as he stood at the wheel, bringing his eyes every now and again off the compass case to glance aloft at the swelling canvas or away over the iridescent sea. He was a young fellow of some seven or eight and twenty, keen of eye and strong of limb, with no traces of gold lace or fine broadcloth about him—his dress being an old pair of check trousers, a blue jersey and a cloth cap. Beside him stood the skipper, 30 years older, with a fiery face and moist eyes—an ugly customer if you put him out, but on the whole a kindly natured man, who knew every headland and every sand bank round the British coast. Now and then you caught sight of a shaggy figure in shirt and trousers moving about the deck forward, and the sound of voices came aft from the fore-castle.

The Alice had never sailed better. Already the little port was in sight, and pretty enough it looked as they approached it, with the spars of the shipping peeping up above the breakwater, behind them the red tiled roofs of the houses on the quayside, and behind these again the great square tower of Fordham church, a landmark to mariners for many a century, and all set in a frame of chalk cliffs, green hills and woodland and lighted up with the golden sunshine that caught every scrap of color that was anywhere about, from the bit of bunting on a ship's masthead to the white houses upon the hillside at the back of the town. To enter the harbor today was child's play.

"If you keep yonder church about eight points on your port bow, it'll take you straight in," said the skipper. "I dare say you could find your way in blindfolded," remarked the mate.

The old man grunted and shrugged his shoulders. "I ought to," he answered. "I've known it as man and boy these 50 years, and many's the time I've had to feel my way in, as you say. Only last winter I brought up off here in a fog that thick you couldn't see half a mile ahead of you, a slack tide and a light wind. But I got in without a scrape."

"Another time I was in charge of a topsail schooner, got caught in a gale in the channel and lost our topmast. A heavy sea was running across the bar, and thick snow squalls hid the land every now and again. I put two men at the wheel, kept the lead going, told all hands to hold on like grim death and got in without parting a rope yarn. But I wouldn't care to do it again. It's all right when you get inside; but, as you can see for yourself, when you get a strong sou'wester and a heavy sea it's a dangerous port to make. The timbers of many a stout craft are scattered along this coast in winter time. Have I ever been ashore here? Yes; twice. The first time I made a mistake in the tides and grounded outside the bar, but luckily it was fair weather, and she came off safely next tide. The next time I thought it was all up with us. We were being towed out in the teeth of half a gale, when the hawser parted, and we fouled the pier, carrying away all the headgear and went ashore just inside the breakwater. If it had been outside, she'd have been smashed into matchwood before morning. But, though I've been in and out of Fordham sometimes two or three times a year for the last 50 years, I never see that church without being reminded of my first voyage and its ending."

"It was a slip of a lad, barely 15 at the time, and I'd shipped aboard a ketch called the Pride of Rochester, for want of a better craft. You know what that means—little food and plenty of rope's end, that was my fare. The skipper was a savage and a drunken one, too, and I believe if it hadn't been for the mate, a man named Tucker, I should have been pitched overboard before the voyage was over. We were bound here with a cargo of slates. The weather was fine, and we had a good passage. As soon as we'd discharged the cargo we hauled out into the river to wait for orders. The skipper he goes ashore and right glad I was to see the back of him, leaving me and Bob Tucker—that was the mate—aboard.

"He was a decent sort of chap, and I think I'd have done pretty well anything for him for saving me from the captain. He'd his best to persuade me to give up seafaring and settle down to some trade ashore and used to tell me some of the things he'd gone through since he'd been to sea. I don't know how many times he hadn't been shipwrecked, but though I was pretty sure of it myself, I wouldn't own up to it and used to think it would be grand to be able to tell such yarns as he could. Ah, I do suppose he ever thought that was to be his last voyage, but it was. It happened like this: We'd been lying out in the river for over a week, when there came a change in the weather and it was a cloudy and unsettled day or two. The wind got away to the south-west and began to pipe up strong and in a few hours it was blowing a heavy gale. A craft came in the channel and for the first time after Briggs and schooner came in with torn sails and splintered spars, and one or two of the fishing boats came to grief on the bar. Before long there was a pretty lively sea all round the coast and it was washing clean over the piers and yonder. So you may guess that even inside we felt it. The ketch, being light, pitched and rolled at her anchorage like a cork, but we rode with a good bit of cable, and there was no other craft near us.

"The next night the gale was at its height. Heavy gusts of wind swept across the harbor, whistling and shrieking wildly among the rigging, and bringing up with them squalls of thick rain that hid the lights of town altogether."

"I was on deck keeping watch, cold, wet and miserable, when I noticed that the cable every now and again seemed to jerk and rattle as it had not done before. So I went aft and told the mate, who was smoking in the cabin."

"'By God, she's dragging!' he shouted as soon as he'd been on deck a few moments. 'We shall be ashore before we know where we are. Bear a hand here, lad. Smart's the word now.' And he laid hold of the painter of the little boat that was bobbing up and down astern of us."

"Hand over hand we got it alongside, and I plucked up courage to ask him what he was going to do."

"'Going to do? Why, I'm going ashore to get help. You and I can't get out another anchor alone. You keep a sharp lookout, and when you hear me call show a light over the side.' And with that he was gone."

"I didn't like being left alone, you may be sure. I was only a youngster, you must remember, and it was my first voyage. I thought she'd go ashore and break up while he was gone, and then I should be drowned, and the next moment I wondered whether he would get back safely. How long he was away I don't know. It seemed to me like hours. I strained my ears to listen for his voice, and during one of the momentary lulls in the howling of the gale I heard yonder church bells strike 9. And still the anchor dragged and still we drifted. At last I caught the sound of a shout far off. I jumped up and waved the lantern over the side. Then came another wait, followed by another shout, this time clear and close at hand. Again I showed the light, and the next moment I heard the splash of oars alongside, and the mate and a stranger, both dripping wet from head to foot, clambered on deck. Then we turned to to get out a kedge. We got the spare anchor up from the hold, bent on a stout hawser to it, and prepared to lower it into the boat. Bob Tucker and the stranger got into the boat and bade me 'lower away' when I was told. But exactly what happened in the darkness and confusion I could never clearly remember. The gale seemed to have got ten times worse. It was difficult to hear oneself speak. If possible, too, it seemed to have got darker. I could just faintly see the forms of two men moving about in the boat as it tossed alongside. Suddenly I heard agonizing shouts for help. I looked over the side, and the boat was gone."

"'Frightened? I should just think I was frightened! I added my shouts to theirs, but you might as well have spoken in a whisper for all anybody would have heard that night. I rushed wildly to and fro, throwing over ropes' ends and anything I could lay my hands upon. I felt horribly helpless as I listened to their cries getting fainter and fainter until at last they ceased altogether, and I knew that they were drowned. I can't tell you what I felt for the rest of that night. I dare not go down below, and even on deck I fancied I could see their faces close beside me, and their cries were ringing in my ears. I forgot all about the gale and the danger of going ashore. But sure enough we did go ashore. When daylight broke, I found that the ketch was lying on her bilge on the mud. Then I got into the rigging and shouted and waved my arms until at last some one came off to me. They wouldn't believe me at first, but in the course of the day poor old Tucker's body was picked up, and the boat was found floating, bottom upward, by a fisherman. As for the ketch, which had cost the mate his life, she took no harm and was got off safe and sound next tide."

"That ended me of seafaring for a time. I staid ashore for a year or two, but then the old longing came back, and I went north in a collier. But I never see yonder church without thinking of poor old Bob Tucker and his fate."—Chambers' Journal.

A Resented Suggestion.

"Would you like a half tone portrait of yourself?" inquired the interviewer. "Certainly not," replied Mrs. Cumrox. "I don't desire it to look as if the question of expense was considered in the slightest. Let it be a whole tone or nothing."—Washington Star.

It's a Pleasure

For us to show you through the Cloak stock, and it must be a source of satisfaction to you to know that there is such a strong line at your doors as we carry. People from out of town give us credit for showing much the best line in this section; and we doubt if Wisconsin can produce another cloak department with so great a display as ours. By great we do not mean floor space, but rather the number of new garments and the great variety of the styles. Controlling so many sample lines enables us at all times to show a large number of novelties so entirely at variance with ordinary lines that comparisons are out of the question. As regards price, it is so well known that we save you a third on every coat that the mention of it seems almost unnecessary.

That new line of plush and velour Capes offers some exceptional bargains. Russian Blouses are much in evidence, and they are a dressy garment—that is, the kind we handle are. Two new shipments added to the misses' line makes the display of young ladies' coats about as complete as it could be; these are also samples and priced accordingly—$2½ and up.

Eiderdown Dressing Sacques

Of all wool eiderdown; color—cardinal, black, pink, light blue, navy and grey—neatly trimmed with black stitching, ribbon ties, size 32 to 32—89c.

It often happens that the doctor is out of town when most needed. The two year old daughter of J. Schenck, of Oadso, Ind. Ter., was threatened with croup. He writes: "My wife insisted that I go for the doctor at once, but as he was out of town, I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which relieved the child immediately." A bottle of that remedy in the house will often save the expense of a doctor's bill, besides the anxiety always occasioned by serious sickness. When it is given as soon as the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. Thousands of mothers always keep it in their homes. The 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by C. D. The New Lake Shore Limited.

It is believed that perfection in car construction has been reached in the equipment of this train. The New York sleeper, for example, is composed of ten sections and two staterooms. Two of the sections at each end of the car are separated by partitions, thereby making them almost as exclusive as staterooms. One of the staterooms in this car is upholstered in red silk tapestry with draperies, carpet, etc., to harmonize. The other stateroom is upholstered in light green tapestry, with green draperies, etc. to correspond. The staterooms have the usual annexes and accommodations. The car has also an elegantly combined smoking and washroom. It is very richly inlaid, upholstered in plain olive-green plush, and draped with rich silk draperies. One particular beautiful feature of this room, as also of the ladies' toilet room, are mirrors over the wash stand. The inlaid work is of very exquisite design, and the frame work is supported by turned columns, brass caps and bases, the columns being inlaid with running vines. The car is built entirely of mahogany finished with inlaid work and mosaic lines. It is remarkable for its plain, natural effect, there being no moldings, and entirely plain services are seen in all directions. The doors are of solid wood, broken with inlaid lines and mosaic work. The ceilings are dome shape, the highlights being ornamented with gold. The upholstery of the body of the car is an olive green, special pattern. The general style of decoration is known as the Coolidge inlaid design.

The Limited leaves Chicago every day at 5:30 p. m., reaching New York at 6:30 p. m., Boston 9:05 p. m., next day.

WINTER FASHIONS.

Coming Events In The World of Style—A Walking Costume.

Evening wraps are mainly of the cape variety this season, and are always more convenient when they assume that form, as any sleeved garment, no matter how large the sleeves may be, interferes more or less with the bodice and crumples its delicate trimmings. Broche silk, velvet and embroidered satin, with incrustations of lace, fur or gold galloon, are much employed for these wraps, which it is impossible to make too elegant.

Boas are very thick and large, but not long, and are usually terminated by an animal's head. Otter and dark fur, skunk and black fox in particular are much liked.

Corsetry is now to be had in all colors, dark and light, and is largely employed for children's wear, to which purpose it is very suitable, being warm and serviceable as well as pretty.

Short jackets of cloth are seen in blue, Russian green, moss green, garnet and red, as well as black and mode colors. They are adorned with expensive buttons, and for cold weather are usually closed to the throat with a mottled collar. If they are braided and have a motif at the back, there is no middle seam behind. If they are not thus trimmed, there is a seam.

Hussar blue, steel gray and red will be favorite winter colors, and gowns and jackets will frequently be seen matching each other in color. Tailor costumes in particular will be thus made on suite, cloth being the preferred material.

Today's illustration shows a walking costume. The skirt is of fancy woolen goods of mixed red and green. The skirt is entirely untrimmed. The blouse bodice is gathered at the waist and has a corset of black velvet. The close sleeves have velvet frills at the wrist. The short cape of black velvet is trimmed with a wide band of mongolie, and the valois collar is also trimmed with mongolie. The lining is of quilted black satin. The black velvet hat is trimmed with green ribbon and black ostrich plumes.

NOVELTIES.

Costumes, Skirts, Trimmings, Capes and Jackets.

Evening costumes are very brilliant, lavishly decorated with embroidery and metal effects. Velvet of light tints and brooches silk, combined with gauze and mouline de soie, embroidered, spangled or beaded, compose many beautiful toilets. Small capotes are seen having crowns covered with embroidery of gold, silver, steel, beads and spangles. Hat crowns are also made in the same way, the foundation of the embroidery being a very fine, kid-like cloth of some light tint—cream, pearl gray, butter color, white or pale pink. The trim is usually of dark velvet.

Many curious, elaborate and minute methods of decoration are seen on expensive gowns this season. One costume has the upper and front part of the bodice sprinkled with little ornaments composed of four small loops of very narrow velvet ribbon, which form a cross, fastened in the middle with a metal bead. These little crosses are sewed on at regular intervals. Other gowns, embroidered, have fibers of ostrich plume worked into the embroidery. Still others are decorated with fine laticework of narrow velvet ribbon.

A new skirt, having a seam down the front, is made in two pieces, just alike, one piece for each side. The seam in the middle of the front and that in the middle of the back are bias, and the skirt is molded to the hips by means of darts. This style of skirt is especially designed with a view to the use of plaid and striped goods, all question of matching being thus eliminated, except at the two seams, where the lines of the design form vandykes.

Today's illustration shows a tailor made cape of beige cloth. It has a jacket effect in front, being double breasted and fastening with two rows of horn buttons and having a velvet faced coat collar with lapels. The cape portion covers the sides and back and has large revers of velvet. The cape is finished with stitching and lined with surah.

NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

It Comes to the Preacher from Over Study and Brain Tize—It Comes to Any Person, too, who Worries and frets.

From the Huron Tribune, Bad Axe, Mich.

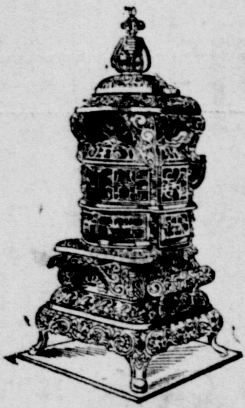

A "breaking down of the nervous system" is a modern expression, a modern complaint. It is induced by prolonged strain and overwork of the nervous system, and is a product of over hurry and hustle. It affects the preacher and the lawyer—the direct result of brain tize. It affects people in any walk of life, too, who worry and fret. It means a depletion of the nerve forces.

It is curable by complete rest and change of scene, also by the use of nerve restoratives and nerve foods. As the first method is not within the reach of all, the latter offers the most universal and practical method of treating the complaint. When it is determined that medicine is to be used, select that one which contains the most nerve-nourishing properties. Do not take nerve tonics. They only stimulate, and the reaction leaves you worse than you were before. Select the medicine that is to the nerves what meat is to the body—one that as it builds up the nerves, also increases your weight. The best thing for the purpose is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, the reputation of which is built up by solid and indisputable proof, and which is known in every hamlet in the country.

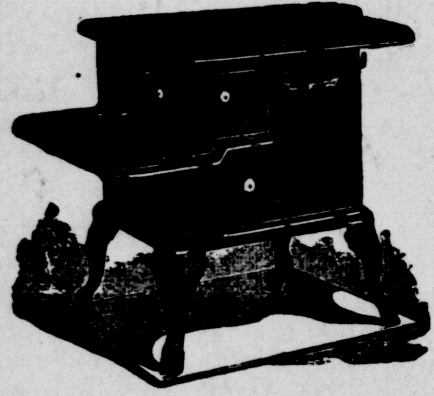

As a proof of its merits in such cases, read the following letter of a clergyman:

DR. WILLIAMS' MED. CO., Schenectady, N. Y.

Dear Sirs:—In April, 1896, I was a hopeless case, owing to a complete breaking down of my nervous system and to a persistent stomach trouble. I had been treated by a great many physicians but received no permanent benefit. I had been down four times with nervous prostration and twice with gastritis. These attacks would come with such violence as to throw me into spasms. The time came when physicians said I must either preach or die. I would be so exhausted after the last service on Sunday that I could scarcely get from the pulpit. Many a time I have had to sit down and rest before I could leave the church in order to gain a little strength. I could eat neither
